Kata Pengantar

Millennials, atau juga dikenal sebagai generasi millennial, adalah kelompok generasi yang lahir antara tahun 1980-an sampai dengan tahun 2000-an. Dengan demikian generasi millennial adalah generasi muda yang sekarang berusia antara 17 – 37 tahun. Tidak dapat dielakkan, kelompok generasi inilah yang mulai sekarang akan banyak mengisi dan berwarnai corak kehidupan masyarakat jaman now dan kehidupan masyarakat pada masa yang akan datang. Generasi millennial inilah yang akan menentukan apakah bangsa kita akan mampu tampil setara dan mampu bersaing dengan bangsa lain dalam komunitas global.

Hasil riset yang dirilis oleh Pew Riset centre menjelaskan keunikan generasi millennial yang tidak bisa dilepaskan dari keberadaan teknologi internet dan budaya pop. Generasi millennial memiliki ketergantungan yang sangat tinggi dengan teknologi internet. Mereka juga lebih terbuka dengan berbagai ide baru dan gagasan dari sumber mana pun.

Porsi kelompok generasi millennial di Indonesia diperkirakan sebanyak 34% dari total penduduk. Kelompok generasi inilah yang dalam kehidupannya selalu mengandalkan kecepatan, dan cenderung suka pada hal-hal yang serba instan. Bila hal ini terus dijadikan pedoman dalam berperilaku, maka dikawatirkan akan memunculkan perilaku cuek dengan lingkungan sosialnya, individualis dan egosentrис, cenderung mencari hal yang serba mudah, dan kurang menghargai sebuah proses. Kecenderungan ini menjadi tantangan utama bagi semua pendidik jaman now. Kegiatan pendidikan dan pembelajaran ditantang untuk mampu memberikan jawaban riil, bagaimana para pendidik harus mengembangkan kegiatan pendidikan dan pembelajaran yang relevan dengan karakteristik generasi millennial. Bagaimana keberadaan teknologi informasi dan komunikasi yang berkembang pesat justru dapat digunakan untuk membangun karakter positif generasi millennial agar kelak mereka dapat bersaing dalam komunitas global.

Saat ini, kajian tentang pendekatan pendidikan, pembelajaran, dan pengembangan sumber daya manusia yang secara spesifik diperuntukkan untuk memperkuat peran generasi millennial dalam era global masih belum banyak dikaji oleh para peneliti, akademisi, dan para pengembang sumber daya manusia. Kegiatan Seminar Nasional Hasil Penelitian Pendidikan dan Pembelajaran dengan tema: "Pengembangan Pembelajaran Inovatif dan Inspiratif: Menjawab Tantangan Era Millenial" ini dirancang untuk mewadai hasil pemikiran, kajian, dan penelitian para akademisi yang menaruh perhatian besar pada isu tentang bagaimana mengembangkan kegiatan pendidikan dan pembelajaran yang mampu menjawab tantangan era millennial. Hasil pemikiran, kajian, dan penelitian ini diharapkan dapat dijadikan rujukan bagi para pendidik dan pengembang sumber daya manusia untuk mengantarkan tumbuhnya insan millennial yang berkarakter, cerdas, dan kompetitif.

SIMPLEX AND COMPLEX THINKING THROUGH READING IN JAVANESE FOR CHILDREN AT THE FIFTH GRADE STUDENTS OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOL: PSYCHOLINGUISTIC APPROACH

Abstract

Started from the global issue about mastering Javanese as the local language and as mother tongue in East Java Indonesia then I had a great interest to conduct a research about simplex and complex thinking which was observed from the use of simplex and complex sentences at MI Islamiyah Ngoro Jombang. It is a small town in East Java Indonesia. This research aimed to know how complex the children thought by using Javanese and how much their national language had influenced their Javanese. I used descriptive qualitative research design. I tried to explain the data in a descriptive way although I needed some numbers to help me to divide the data in simplex and complex sentences. The findings showed that the girls used more complex sentences than the boys (78% was higher than 58,6%), the girls thought more logically than the boys in understanding pictures through short story because the girls used more enhancement in reading, and they had better reading skill because they thought more logically.

Abstrak

Dimulai dari isu global tentang penguasaan Bahasa Jawa sebagai bahasa lokal dan sebagai bahasa ibu di Jawa Timur Indonesia kemudian saya memiliki ketertarikan yang besar untuk melakukan penelitian tentang pola pemikiran sederhana dan kompleks yang diamati dari penggunaan kalimat sederhana dan kalimat kompleks di MI Islamiyah Ngoro Jombang. Sekolah ini berada di kota kecil di Jawa Timur Indonesia. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk mengetahui bagaimana bentuk kompleksitas dari pemikiran anak-anak dengan cara menggunakan Bahasa Jawa dan seberapa banyak bahasa nasional telah mempengaruhi penggunaan Bahasa Jawa. Saya menggunakan desain penelitian deskriptif kualitatif. Saya mencoba menjelaskan data dengan cara deskripsi meskipun saya membutuhkan beberapa angka untuk membantu saya membagi data kalimat sederhana dan kalimat kompleks. Temuan penelitian menunjukkan bahwa anak perempuan lebih banyak menggunakan kalimat kompleks daripada anak laki-laki (78% lebih tinggi daripada 58,6%), anak perempuan berpikir dengan lebih logis daripada anak laki-laki dalam memahami gambar melalui cerita pendek karena anak perempuan menggunakan lebih banyak perluasan dalam membaca, dan mereka memiliki kemampuan membaca lebih baik karena mereka berpikir dengan mempertimbangkan logika wacana.

INTRODUCTION

The global problem in Indonesia nowadays is the lack of children in mastering the local language because they prefer using national language or Indonesian to using Javanese as the local language. This problem happens in Indonesia, especially for people in Java. Seeing this global problem, I have a great interest to conduct a research in a local problem as the mother tongue related to the case of Javanese mastery in the elementary school students. I conducted my research at MI Islamiyah Ngoro Jombang. It is a small town in East Java Indonesia.

This research is very essential to be conducted because it shows the way how complex the children think by using Javanese and how much their national language has influenced their Javanese. If I see from the locus and the focus, I have found some research which could give contribution to my research. The previous research was from Salim and Mehawesh (2014) who conducted a research on children's language development in Arabic as the language of speaking home. They stated that environment really influenced language children.

Another research was from Paradis (2007), she had conducted a research about children language acquisition in English and French. She found that the bilingual children got the language impairment in learning grammatical features and they were very slow in responding one of the two languages which they learnt. If the children had learnt two languages at once, they would get one language weaker than another one.

Inal and Cakir (2014) had conducted an experimental research in using story based vocabulary teaching. Their research focused on the vocabulary. The story was full of texts. Therefore, Inal and Cakir had not done the research by using story with no texts and had not focused on reading. Their research also conducted to test whether the story was effective in teaching vocabulary.

My research gap is investigating the language development in using simplex and complex sentences to find out the children's way in thinking, especially in using local language 'javanese' which had not been done in other previous researches. This research was very useful to contribute in giving data and information related with the use of local language in East Java in Indonesia. This research also contributed in theory in supporting Lynn and Mikk's theory (2009). They stated that the girls or female students had better reading than the boys or male students.

PRESENT STUDIES

The better reading skill showed the more complex sentences because the students tried to think coherently in a logic way (Santosa, 2003). A good story brought the benefit to both students and teacher because the good story could improve language skill and intercultural understanding. The story could also offer universal life experiences (Inal and Cakir, 2014). In this research, The story involved the human being and animals which had uncommon characters, interesting matter and could attract the students' attention to read although there were only pictures without any texts but they were still understandable.

Ceylan (2016) also had the same idea with Inal and Cakir (2014). He added information that using short story could make the reading skill class increase. The benefits of using short stories were namely: 1) it could broaden students' perspective; 2) it could enable students to think about reasons or thought critically; 3) it could show different life styles; 4) it could compare one culture and other culture; 5) it could increase appreciation to urge the students to read more. There were so many advantages of using story that made me sure that it could be used to test the students' way in thinking referred back to Ceylan's statement in number 2.

The students were asked to read loudly because reading loudly could make me analyze the students' reading comprehension easily. Al-Mansour and Al-Shorman (2011) stated that reading was a complex skill because through reading, students could learn to write, to speak, to enrich vocabulary, to master grammar, to understand spelling, and other language aspects with printed words and texts. I argued here, I was definitely sure that children could also read and understand the stories through pictures without any texts.

I was interested in investigating the students' skill in using Javanese because learning language, especially for Javanese could help the students to develop their self-awareness and cultures like what had been stated by Saddhono and Rohmadi (2014). The students expressed their opinions and their feeling to involve in social interaction to show their imaginative capability.

METHODOLOGY

I used descriptive qualitative research design. I preferred using spontaneous reading to check the language development in psycholinguistic area. I asked the students to read spontaneously a story book. Its title is "Frog, Where Are You?" written by Mercer Mayer. There were not words in that book therefore the children tried hard to understand the pictures and started reading based on their own understanding.

My step in conducting this research in this way was based on Jalilevand and Ebrahimpour (2014). They argued that there were three kinds of measurement in analyzing language samples, namely: mean length of utterance, developmental sentence score, and index of productive syntax. I preferred using developmental sentence score by using spontaneous reading to get natural language observation.

After getting the data on developmental sentence, in this case the simplex and complex sentences, I described the data to get the finding on the way of children's thinking. I got the same number of the data source to have a balance in gender between male and female students. I also described the different way in thinking in both different genders. I collected the data then I reduced the data which I only needed and then described it. To get the valid data, I used theory triangulation. I used the theory of Santosa (2003) which stated that the more complex sentences used, it meant that it would be more scientific and more logic.

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

After recording, I wrote the recording into the transcript to analyze the data easier. These were the transcript from the ten students in Javanese and then slanslated into English to be readable for others outside Indonesia.

I had a frog. When I left the frog to sleep, the frog came out of the jar. When I got up, I watched the jar, the frog wasn't there. And I looked for in shoes and looked for in the window in the side of my house. In fact, the dog fell down and I scolded the dog. I shouted at the hole of the tree. I found the hole of the tree and looked for in the hole of the mouse. My dog and I found a mouse. Moreover I looked for the frog in the hole of the tree. I was pushed by the owl. And I hid behind the stone and I climbed the stone to ask for a help and in fact, I climbed to the head of the deer. I was by the deer held and put onto his head and I was pushed with my dog by the deer into the river. Directly I fell directly. I found wood. In fact, behind the wood, there was the frog and its couple. I took one of them directly it shook.

I looked for in the hole of the mouse and my dog looked for in the bee hive. I was surprised by the mouse and my dog was surprised by many bees. I looked for in the nest of the owl. I was surprised by the owl till fell and my dog was chased by the bees. I hid on the stone. On the stone I shouted. Then, I then the deer splashed me in the river with my dog. My dog and I were wet. My dog and I would go up. My dog and I hid behind the log. My dog and I started looking for again. My dog and I found a couple of frogs. My dog and I saw their tadpoles too. My dog and I played in the river and the couple saw with the tadpoles.

My dog and I found a frog in a forest. I took the frog in the jar. When I slept, the frog came out and I don't know. When I got up, there wasn't frog in my jar. I looked for in the shoes and in the can. I shouted till in the inside in front of the house. And my dog fell down and I looked for my dog. In fact, under me, and I looked for in the forest until found the hole of the mouse and found it. My dog also found the hole of the bee and the bee was dropped by my dog and I looked for in the hole of the Banyan tree and my dog was chased by the bees. I fell down from the Banyan tree that the owl came out and I was scolded by the owl and I still looked for under the stones. In fact, there was a wood I sat on it then I could climb it, in fact it was a deer, then I was turned around into water. Finally I fell down, soaking wet and I found a wood. I hid there and I fell down again met the frog and his father and I met many frogs and his brothers, sisters. Then I took home all of them.

Based on the analysis, I got the data about the simplex complex sentences shown in table 11.

Table 11. Type of Complex and Simplex Sentences in Javanese Reading

10.	Fikrie Choir (male)	19	10	53	9	47	Paratactic, hypotactic, enhancement

Based on the data above, for the male students, they preferred using complex sentences to simplex sentences. The comparison was 58,6 % for complex sentences which was higher than simplex sentences that was only 41,4%. It meant that the male students liked to think logically. The more complex sentences which the children used, the more logic thinking they applied.

In the female students' side, the data showed that only 22% of the female students used simplex sentences, and 78% of complex sentences were used by them. It meant that the girls thought more logically (78%) higher than the boys (58,6%) or in other words, I could say that female reading skill was better than the male reading skill. It had been closely related with Lynn and Mikk's theory (2009).

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

Based on the findings, I could conclude some matters, namely: 1) the girls used more complex sentences than the boys (78% was higher than 58,6%); 2) the girls thought more logically than the boys in understanding pictures through short story because the girls used more enhancement in reading; 3) the girls had better reading skill than the boys because the girls thought more logically than the boys in reading the story. This research also had a weakness because it only very limited data. There were still mixing used by the students although in limited numbers by using Javanese and Indonesian. The data source was got from only ten students. I suggested to the next researcher to have more the data source to convince more about the complexity and had the pure Javanese from the data source. This research still showed the interference of Indonesian in using Javanese.
